FINDS RELATION AFTER 50 YEARS

Mrs. Louisa Wertz Locates Four Brothers of Deceased Husband in Unusual Way.

NEVER KNOWN TO HUSBAND

He Was "Bound Out" at the Age of Four When Parents Died and Later Fled to Indiana.

Had Hiram Wertz, who died a year ago last March at his home a few miles southwest of the city, lived until now, he would have lived to enjoy the pleasure of knowing his four brothers, whose whereabouts he never knew in all of his life.

The means by which the widow, Mrs. Louisa Wertz, learned of the residence of the brothers of her husband, of whom she had often heard him speak, was very unusual. George A. Holman of Ohio, who has been selling vacuum cleaners for the Eaton Vacuum Cleaner company in Rushville and Rush county the last few weeks is responsible.

When he called at the Wertz home to sell a cleaner he recalled that he knew people of the same name in Ohio, and asked if the two families were related. Mrs. Wertz did not know and told the salesman the story of her husband's career. Mr. Holman gave her the name of Samuel Werts of West Alexandria, Ohio, and told her to write him.

The result was that Mrs. Wertz has just received a letter from Samuel Wertz telling of the place of residence of her deceased husband's four brothers. Samuel Wertz, it develops, was a cousin of the Rush county man.

The names of the four brothers and their places of residence are: William of near West Alexandria, Ohio; Henry of near Germantown, Ohio; Frank of Dark county, Ohio, and Aaron of near Carlton, Ohio.

Mrs. Wertz and her daughter, Miss Nina Wertz, plan to correspond with their newly found relatives, and possibly will visit them.

Mr. Wertz had a hard life. His parents died when he was four years of age and he was "bound out" as was the custom in those days. That was fifty years ago in the days of the civil war. He never saw his brothers after that and never knew where they resided. He remembered Aaron well, because he was the eldest, and often talked of him to his family.

The family with whom he found a home was very cruel, and when he became old enough to shift for himself, he fled from their home and came to Indiana, where he sought his fortune. He located in Rush county early in life. He married a sister of William Posey, former clerk of the circuit court.

QUIET IN COURT.

Very little business was transacted in court today. The cases set down for today were postponed and placed on the calendar for later in the term. There will be very little doing all of this week. Judge Megee does not like to call a jury because the farmers are very busy and only cases that can be tried by the court will be heard this week.

The Associated Manufacturers Campaign will give a free demonstration at Allen's grocery in Main street and Fred Cochran's grocery in First street, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, in favor of the Modern Woodmen. Help the Woodmen by attending these demonstrations.

A marriage license was issued yesterday afternoon to Charles Hasely and Emma Estum.

WOODROW WILSON FALLS

President's Namesake at Manilla Has Narrow Escape.

Woodrow Wilson Clawson, the President's namesake and the three-year-old son of Prof. and Mrs. Carl Clawson of Manilla, rather miraculously escaped death or serious injury when he toppled out of the second story window at his home yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. The child did not get a scratch aside from the dislocation of two small bones in one foot. A Manilla physician was called and reduced the fracture without any difficulty.

AUTO MYSTERY NO MYSTERY AFTER ALL

Wrecked Car East of the City Belonged to Earl Alexander of Con-nersville—Bert Christman Hurt.

FRACTURE WAS REDUCED HERE

The deserted automobile mystery was no mystery after all. The car is owned by Earl Alexander of Connersville and the driver who was hurt was Bert Christman, a Connersville lawyer. He was brought to Rushville from the scene of the accident two miles east of the city Sunday night by Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Paxton, who chanced to be passing in their automobile, and taken to the Sexton sanatorium, where the fracture was reduced.

Mr. Christman was very seriously injured. The head of the left arm bone that works in the shoulder socket was fractured. Dr. Paxton saw the wrecked auto in the ditch as he passed, and stopped his machine and backed up.

The men first said they were from Cincinnati, but Dr. Paxton recognized Mr. Christman when he came up to the car. Earl Alexander and the other man, whose name was not learned, were not hurt and managed to get back to Connersville some way Sunday night. Mr. Christman was sent home on the last I. & C. car. The wrecked automobile has been removed. It was reported to the police yesterday that the machine still lay at the side of the road, but a trip to the scene last evening revealed that it had been taken away.

MOTION PICTURE FILM EXPLODES

Small Panic Created in Superba Theater in Knightstown by Shouts of Fire.

NO ONE HURT IN GRAND RUSH

A panic developed in the Superba motion picture theater in Knightstown last night when a film caught fire and exploded. The film burned with a flash and the audience immediately thought that the theater was on fire. Shouts of fire aroused everyone and a grand rush for the entrance started. No one was injured in the jam and hurry of getting out. The film burned in a second and nothing else in the operator's box caught fire. The theater was not very crowded when the film exploded. The audience stood out on the street until assurances had been given that there was no danger and that the fire had been extinguished.

LIGHTNING DOES A LITTLE DAMAGE

Strikes Several Barns and Kills One Horse in Rush County During Last Night's Storm.

RAIN GENERAL OVER COUNTY

Prayers of Farmers Are Answered
Because the Ground Needed
Moisture Very Badly.

The prayers of farmers were answered last night with the heaviest rain since the flood. It was general all over Rush county and did inestimable good. The rain was accompanied by a heavy wind and hail and electrical demonstrations. There were a few stray cases in Rush county where barns were struck by lightning, and one horse was killed, but the damage was not great.

The barn on the farm of Ezekial Jones of Ripley township, located about half way between Carthage and Arlington, was hit by lightning, but the damage was small. All of the lightning rods were torn off the structure.

Albert Stevens' barn at Andersonville was hit by a bolt of lightning and one corner of it torn away. It was considered remarkable that the barn did not catch fire. There were several head of live stock housed in another section of the barn, but none was hurt.

A horse belonging to Scott Powell, living east of Fairview, was killed by lightning. The animal was found dead in the pasture this morning.

It was reported here this morning that Frank Lockwood's barn near Laurel had been hit by lightning and destroyed by fire. Nothing was saved. A great amount of grain and hay and farming implements burned. All of the live stock was out on pasture.

Reports from the remotest parts of the county indicate that the rain was general all over the county and possibly all over this section of Indiana. The lightning was the most severe of the year, and it is considered rather remarkable that more damage was not done.

Hail beat down the truck gardens in all parts of the county. It is impossible to estimate today whether the hail and wind did any damage to the crops. It was feared by some farmers this morning that the hail and wind blew and knocked some of the embryo fruit off the streets.

But most farmers are optimistic and believe that the rain did much more good than it did harm. This is the first rain of any consequence since the flood in March. The ground was in such condition that the farmers could not work it. Some had postponed corn planting until the fields were loosened up by some moisture. Even though the rain of the last few weeks has been scant, corn that was planted during the dry spell has begun to sprout.

In a few instances the telephone lines over the county were put out of commission. Trouble was experienced on lines from the Arlington and Carthage exchanges.

WHAT IS PROMISES.

Muncie Press: The citizens of a neighboring city are preparing to put on a "Made in Anderson" manufacturers exhibit. Next year, if the new tariff law does all that is promised for it a "Made in England, France, Germany and Belgium" exhibit can be substituted.

A good attendance of the members of the Modern Woodmen lodge is requested for next Thursday night. Business of importance to every member will be transacted.

400 PLATES LAID AT G.O.P. BANQUET

James E. Watson One of Speakers at Terre Haute Republican Love Feast Last Night.

SPIRIT OF GETTING TOGETHER

Uncle Joe Cannon Says That All the Republicans Have to do is to Wait.

In one of the most representative gatherings of Republicans ever held in Terre Haute the party formally opened the city campaign last night, says a Terre Haute dispatch. The occasion was a banquet at the Filbeck Hotel, arranged by the Vigo County Republican Club, which took on the nature of a love feast, with former speaker of the House, Joseph G. Cannon, and James E. Watson, former "whip" of the House, as headliners. Large delegations from Paris, Ill., Brazil, Sullivan, Bloomington, Rockville and Newport attended the meeting.

The central theme of the speakers was that of "get together." Four hundred plates were laid and so great was the demand for tickets that many of the late comers were turned away.

Active in promoting the affair were Felix Blankenbaker, recent nominee for Congress, and many younger party workers. The absence of several men heretofore credited with being Republican bosses of the district was noted.

Watson and Cannon were the only speakers and each talked more than an hour. It was after 11 o'clock when they finished, and they had to catch a Chicago train. Among out-of-town banqueters were George B. Lockwood of Marion; Senator Will Wood of Lafayette; Wade Emison of Vincennes; Charles S. Hernly of Newcastle; Mayor Mallott, Charles Thornton and Nat U. Hill of Bloomington.

Uncle Joe, in the course of his speech said: "Woodrow Wilson had a constitutional majority, with 42 per cent of the popular vote, and the Democratic party is in full power. Woodrow Wilson is our president and I trust he will continue to be until March, 1917. So far the Democratic party is trying to keep its promises. If it turns out that under the proposed policies the people of the United States are bettered in their condition then the Democratic party will deserve to be continued in power. No doubt they will have a fair trial by the people. My own opinion is that the economic policies of that party will fail in enabling the people of the United States to better their condition, and if it should so turn out a majority of the people in 1914 and 1916 can return to the policies of the Republican party. All we have to do is to wait.

"The proposal that the Republican national committee call a convention to change the basis of votes in the national nominating convention is not well considered. All the national committee can do is to call a convention to nominate a candidate for president. The nominating convention in 1916 will have full power to provide for a basis on Republican votes cast not only for future conventions but for its own proceedings. The national committee has no more authority to call a special convention to take action on the basis of representation than has Senator Cummings, Governor Hadley or any other one or more Republicans.

"If the Iowa and the Kansas delegations had not voted against the resolution before the national convention in 1908 for a basis of votes cast we now would have that representation.

NOTED SOLOISTS TO GIVE PROGRAM

Judging From Press Notices Concert
at Christian Church Tonight
Merits Large Audience.

ONE VIOLINIST IS PRODIGY

The concert to be given by professors and students of the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music at the Main Street Christian church this evening at eight o'clock merits a large audience, judging from the press notices which have been given the principals. A varied and what promises to be a very enjoyable program will be given by four soloists—two violinists, a pianist and tenor—and a male quartet.

Gaylord Yost, violin instructor, has praiseworthy notices not only from the largest metropolitan newspapers in the United States, but also from the press of Europe, where he was educated. Harold Jaffe, a pupil of Mr. Yost's is a musical prodigy. Although only fifteen years of age, he gives promise of excelling his teacher. Wesley M. Howard, the tenor, has many praiseworthy notices from the East, and those who have followed the growth of interest in music in Indianapolis will be familiar with Carl Beutel, pianist, and the member of the quartet.

NO WARNING SIGNAL PUT AT WASHOUTS

Motorist Narrowly Misses Driving
Automobile Over Embankment—
Danger of Loss of Life.

TWO CASES KNOWN IN COUNTY

Some contractors who are building new culverts where there were washouts during the flood are very careless, according to recent revelations. There are two cases in the county that are known of—on the Milroy road and the Homer road—where no red light of warning is put out at night so that travelers will avoid the washouts.

Last night a Rushville motorist was driving south of the city with another Rushville man who was acquainted with the conditions of the road. The driver of the automobile started down the road at a pretty good clip and was warned just in time by his companion to avoid driving into the washout, where they are constructing a new concrete culvert. It is easy to see what the damage might be in case one unfamiliar with the road passed over it at night. Loss of life might result. The case last night was reported by the automobile owner and he says that a similar condition exists on the Homer road.

MILK CANS MUST BE KEPT CLEAN

Act of Last Legislature Provides a Heavy Fine For Failure to Comply With Provisions.

EACH IS A SEPARATE OFFENSE

Another Law is Calculated to Prevent a Milk Monopoly in Any Given City in State.

Two acts of the last legislature relate to milk supply. One of the laws lays down rules for the cleaning of milk cans and provides a heavy penalty in case of violation. The other measure is to prevent a milk monopoly. A summary of the two acts follows:

Senate Bill 67 (Chapter 69) approved March 4, requires the cleaning of cans and receptacles used for the transportation of milk, cream and ice cream by the consignee before returning to the shipper for further use by him. Where milk, cream or ice cream is shipped for food in a receptacle that is to be returned for continued use "the consumer, dealer or consignee using, selling or receiving the milk, cream or ice cream from such receptacle, shall immediately and before so returning such can or receptacle, thoroughly remove all particles of such substance therefrom, by washing and rinsing with water." The fact that a shipment is sold within or shipped into a city shall be prima facie evidence that it is sold for human food, and delivery to a creamery shall be prima facie evidence that the receptacle is liable to continued use. Such cans are forbidden to be used as receptacles for refuse, dirt or garbage, or any organic matter liable to decay. Every return of an uncleaned can or its delivery to a carrier for return "shall be deemed a separate violation" of the act, and is made punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50.

House Bill 272 (Chapter 117), approved March 6, forbids any efforts to create a monopoly, and all unfair discrimination in the purchase, sale and distribution of milk or milk products. Intentionally buying or selling such commodity at a lower rate in one section, community or city, than is paid or charged in another after equalizing the distance and the cost of transportation and making allowances for differences in quality, for the purpose of destroying the business of a competitor, is declared to constitute unfair discrimination and is made punishable by a fine of from $100 to $50, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both penalties. "All contracts and agreements made in violation of any provisions of the two preceding sections shall be void." The attorney-general and the several prosecuting attorneys are charged with the duty of enforcing the act. Complaints may be made to the secretary of state, who shall refer them to the attorney-general for action. Any corporation found guilty of unfair discrimination within the terms of this act, shall suffer the revocation of its permit to do business in the state.

BREAKS A RIB.

Mrs. W. T. Simpson of Roswell, New Mexico, until recently of Rushville, broke one of her ribs a few days ago, according to word received by relatives here. Her foot slipped off the step as she was climbing into a buggy and her side struck the sharp edge of the buggy bed.

Frank Wilson and Will Brann were initiated into the Elk's lodge at Connersville last night.

Mrs. Foolish—"Well, I may be tired out, but I have the satisfaction of knowing I never slight anything. My clothes are boiled and rubbed good and hard every week—no dirt left in them, I can tell you."

Anty Drudge—"Yes, you look tired, and, more than that, there's something you do slight. That's the sensible, easy, best way to wash clothes clean without wearing them out. Fels-Naptha Soap is the cure for you."

Stop thinking the hard way is the right way to do your housework. The right way is the cool-water, no-hard-rubbing Fels-Naptha way, and it's easy.

Go buy a cake of Fels-Naptha Soap. Follow the directions, and you won't dread washday any more. Your clothes will last longer and look better, because they're not boiled and rubbed to shreds. And you won't be tired to death, either.

Easy directions on the red and green wrapper.

A Tantalizing Arctic Dream.
Speaking on the subject of his three years' expedition to the icy regions of northeast Greenland, Captain Mikkelson told of his dreams of sandwiches. When the food supply was giving out, said the explorer, the members of the expedition dreamed of food at night. This is not an uncommon experience among those who have had, from various causes, to go short of the fuel necessary to keep the power going in the human machine, as various records testify. For much the same reason the troubled sleep of the toper is visited toward morning by visions of cooling beverages.

The explorer related that one night he dreamed of a large plate of "beautiful sandwiches," but when he approached them he found that they were inclosed with glass, and he could not get at them. Another time he saw in a dream a plate of sandwiches covered with a newspaper, but when he took away the newspaper he found another one and still another and could never get to the food.—London Globe.

Wedded to a Vase.

Not long ago considerable commotion was caused in the Chinese city of Hankow when the attractive and popular daughter of a prominent Chinese official was married with great pomp and ceremony to a large red vase which was supposed to represent a deceased bridegroom who had died a few years before his marriage, whereupon his grief stricken bride elect declared that she would never marry any one else, but would devote herself as a widow for the rest of her life to the family of her husband. In order to do this, however, it was necessary that she should legally belong to that family, and so the strange ceremony with the vase was gone through with to enable her to become a member of the family. Since then it has been suggested that an arch should be built in the city in order to commemorate the devotion of the young girl to the husband she never had.—Chicago Tribune.

The Senses of the Word "Lady."
"She is a lady in every sense of the word!" exclaimed Blifkins.
"Then she is the most remarkable woman that ever lived," replied Johnson.

"What do you mean? Aren't there plenty of ladies in the world?"
"You, but not in every sense of the word. For instance, if the woman is what you say, she is not only a woman of good family or of good breeding and refinement, but she is also, according to the dictionaries, 'a sweetheart (local United States); a slate measuring about sixteen inches broad by ten long, the calcareous apparatus in the cardiac part of the stomach of the lobster, the function of which is the trituration of food.' And if she is all that her fortune is made in the museum line."

After that it was noted that Blifkins usually pruned down the remark to "she is a lady," simply.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Do you know that there are right handed and left handed plants? An English investigator, R. H. Compton, has thought the matter curious and interesting enough to make it the subject of extended investigation and has reported on it to the Cambridge Philosophical society. He observed eight varieties of two rowed barley to determine the ratio of rights and lefts. In the first, leaves of seeds of different varieties and of the various kernels from the same individual spikes, and found that among 12,401 seedlings 7,237, or 58.36 per cent, had the first leaf twisted to the left. A variety of millet showed an excess of left handed seedlings, as was also the case with oats. In the case of corn the ratio was almost unity, and there was apparently "no inheritance of right and left handedness as such."—Scientific American.

Stretching.
"My doctor," said the robust man, "is almost a fanatic on stretching. When you wake up in the morning he advises you to take a good, long stretch with the hands as far out sideways as possible, then over the head as far as you can reach. At the same time stretch the feet and stretch upward as high as you can. These simple movements equal a course in gymnastics and should be indulged in after any long period of sitting."—National Magazine.

Economical.
"Mother said she thought you were extravagant, Tom, but I proved you were not."
"You darling! How did you do that?"
"Told her you were with me two hours last night and only kissed me once."

SEEKS TREASURE IN CHALK CAVE

Spanish Gold Buried In Colorado Years Ago.

SAID TO BE $80,000,000.

Coins, Gems and Nuggets, Guarded by Human Skulls and Strange, Weird Figures of Stone, Repose In Chests In Place Where Spaniards Sought Refuge When Pursued by Enemies.

Somewhere at the base of Mount Princeton, eight miles southwest of Buena Vista, Colo., where the chalk cliffs stand like sentinels, in the Chalk Creek canyon, there lies buried a Spanish treasure of fabulous richness, said to be approximately $80,000,000.

It is said to be stored away behind the mighty walls of one of the many winding secret channels which penetrate that particular section and reach far into the bowels of this massive mountain. It is said these chests of gold are guarded by human skulls with strange and weird figures of stone.

According to the man who is now in quest of this Spanish treasure, there are old wooden chests with rusted locks and worm eaten covers, bulging in many places with gold nuggets running in yellow streams from the rotten sides. They lie on the floor of the cave once used by the Spaniards as their hiding places from the roving hands of Indians or when too closely pursued by enemies of other kinds.

Values Untold.

Nuggets as large as or larger than the largest Klondike nugget and precious stones and coins so rare that their worth can never be estimated—this is the dream of Thomas A. Summers of Nathrop, a few miles south of Buena Vista.

Summers has been working on the secret of the old mountain for several years, but it was only recently that his strange mission became known. He has worked alone, confiding in nobody. Little attention was paid to him, and in fact, he let it be generally believed that he was simply prospecting.

With dim and thumb worn drawings, to which he is constantly referring, he believes he will soon be in possession of the $80,000,000.

According to his story, there are certain skulls and figures of animals carved on the face of the cliffs, which are to be seen only when the full moon shines at a certain angle overhead, which will lead him to the entrance to the cave.

Many Caverns.

There are thousands of these small caverns in the chalk cliff at that point. Just at what period of the year, month or week it is that the rays of the moon will reach the certain spot on the cliff is a mystery he is trying to solve.

Summers is not the only man who has looked for the buried treasure. Some years ago a man came from the east with drawings and sketches, through which he hoped to locate the lost treasure. He worked several years before giving up the quest.

IS AN INTELLECTUAL MARVEL.

New Mexico Boy, Eight Years Old, Ready For High School.

Not yet eight years old, but qualified to enter high school next fall, which he will do, Raymond Ray of Roswell, N. M., is the wonder of the educational world of the United States.

Without a single day in the public schools, trained at his mother's knee since he was a babe of a few months, Ray already has stood the tests required of the average boy or girl of fourteen with six to seven years of study in school.

Not only that, he reads, writes and talks German and Spanish in addition to English, and is now about to take up Latin as a regular course.

His record equals and almost excels that of Herbert Wiener, the famous son of Dr. Leo Wiener of Harvard college, who will receive his degree as doctor of philosophy in June, though but eighteen years old.

If he maintains his present rate of progress he may be qualified to enter college when ten years old. Wiener matriculated at Tufts college when he was eleven.

BUILDS $150,000 GARAGE.

Ziegler Also Orders a $5,000 Chicken Brooder For Estate.

A $150,000 garage and a $5,000 chicken brooder are the latest desires of William Ziegler, adopted son and heir of the late baking powder king. They are under construction on his estate, Great Island, in the town of Darien, Conn.

The garage will be trimmed in mahogany, and the doors and elevator will be electrically equipped. Everything else will be in keeping. The brooder will hatch and raise chickens automatically. It is his wish to have broilers to eat all the year around.

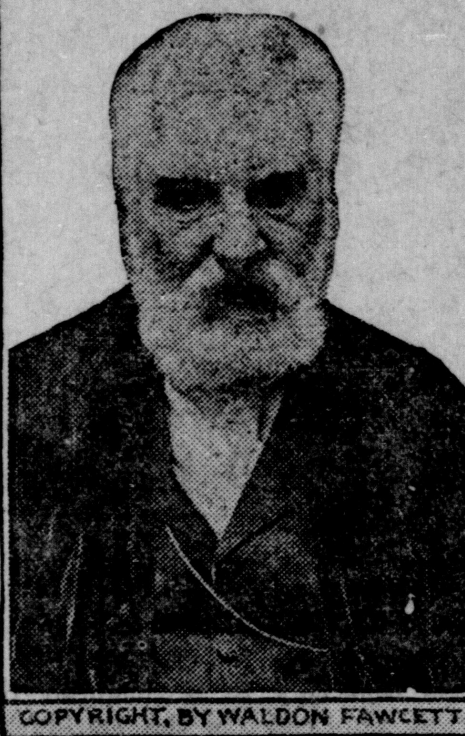

Mr. Ziegler recently purchased a steam yacht and is at present enjoying a cruise around the world.

Penalty For Swearing.

Swearing on the streets of Clayton, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, carries a penalty of from $1 to $100, and users of profanity are carefully compiling a list of the $100 words so they can avoid them.

PROFESSOR BELL

Eminent Scientist Has Plans For Crossing Atlantic by Aeroplane.

WILL ENDEAVOR TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC

Professor Bell Believes Air Trip Can Be Made.

Sydney, N. S., May 14.—F. C. Baldwin, one of the assistants of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, will endeavor to cross the Atlantic in an aeroplane in an effort to win the British prize of $55,000 to the first aviator who spans the ocean in less than seventy-two hours. Professor Bell believes that the journey will be made, if at all, in one spurt.

"Starting from Halifax in the early morning we should reach the coast of Ireland for a late dinner," he said.

Dr. Bell's calculations were based on the assumption that the distance was 2,000 miles and that an airship was capable of a speed of forty miles an hour at normal elevation. He proposes that the flight be made at an altitude of five miles, where one-third the density of the normal atmosphere would permit a travel speed.

JURY CONVICTED JOHNSON

Black Pugilist Found Guilty of Violating the Mann Act.

Chicago, May 14.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was found guilty of violation of the Mann act in connection with Belle Schreiber, a white woman, of Milwaukee. The jury found the pugilist guilty as charged on seven counts. The penalty is five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on each count. Motion was made for a new trial, which was set for May 19, and Johnson was released on $30,000 bail.

Senate Blocks Confirmation.

Washington, May 14.—For four hours the senate struggled behind closed doors over the question of confirming the nomination of Walter H. Harris of Georgia to be director of the census to succeed F. Dana Durand. The nomination was not confirmed and will come up again the next executive session. It was the first sharp partisan struggle over confirming President Wilson's nominations.

INCOME TAX IN MANY NATIONS

How It Is Assessed and Collected Abroad.

SOME MINUTE GRADATIONS.

Comparisons With That Proposed In Underwood Bill Are Difficult Since Rates, Rules and Exemption Are Constantly Changing—States and Cities Have Schedules of Their Own.

Now that the subject of the income tax is attracting so much attention in America it is interesting to note how other countries apply the system and what results they obtain from it. An exact comparison of the tax proposed in the Underwood bill with those collected elsewhere is not easily drawn, for the reason that rates, rules and exemptions the world over are constantly changing and that many other forms of taxation are hard to distinguish from the income tax proper.

For instance, the separate German states levy income taxes. Some German cities do also, and the imperial German government is about to take an especial contribution from large incomes, presumably paid in five instalments, so that for five years and perhaps longer, some Germans may have triple income taxes to pay.

In Great Britain the estate taxes levied as death duties bring in a revenue of $125,000,000 a year. They are graduated, rising to 8 and 10 per cent on large estates. On those of over $15,000,000 the first $5,000,000 pays 10 per cent and the remainder 15 per cent.

British Exemption Varies.

The British income tax proper was levied off and on during the Napoleonic wars and steadily since 1842. The exemption has varied from $500 to $800 and is now the latter figure. The rate has varied from less than 1 per cent upward.

During the Boer war it rose to 14d. in the pound, or nearly 6 per cent. It was not then graduated. A super tax is now levied, and the principles of graduation and discrimination have been further introduced, though to a less extent than on the continent.

The tax is producing this year $220,000,000, more than twice what the Underwood bill contemplates. An earned income of $15,000 pays 9d. in the pound on $9,200 and 14d on $5,000, $800 being exempt. An unearned income pays 14d. In general the lowest rate is 9d., or about 3.75 per cent.

The highest is 14d., with a super tax of 6d. on incomes over $25,000, or in all a little above 8 per cent. Besides the general exemption there is a special exemption of $50 for each child under sixteen.

A man with five children and $1500 a year pays 9d. in the pound on $150, or about $5.40 tax.

The Austrian Method.

Austria divides the income tax into very many minute gradations. The exemption is $250, but above that limit the entire income is taxed. The lowest rate is 0.6 per cent. Strictly speaking, there is no "highest." The rate continues to rise as the income increases.

At $42,500 the tax paid is $1,937.50, or 4.5 per cent. An income of $500,000 would pay close to 5 per cent.

There are various exemptions for the emperor, diplomats, soldiers, families with children, the blind, crippled, bed-ridden, etc.

The German income tax laws vary with the state. In Prussia the exemption is $225. An income of $250 pays $1.50. The rate averages 3 per cent, but large incomes pay 5 per cent upon the greater part. Earned incomes are taxed less than unearned ones, and there are numerous exemptions.

Saxony has 118 gradations and taxes an income of $100 24 cents. There is an abatement for children. Large incomes pay a much higher rate than moderate ones. Bavaria taxes earned income up to 3 per cent, unearned income up to 4 per cent.

The exemption in the case of unearned income is only $17.50. If you have, say, $20 unearned income it pays 30 cents tax.

In Italy and Spain.

The tax in Italy rises to 20 per cent on large incomes, but takes the place of other taxation to an extent not here contemplated. Much the same is true of Spain.

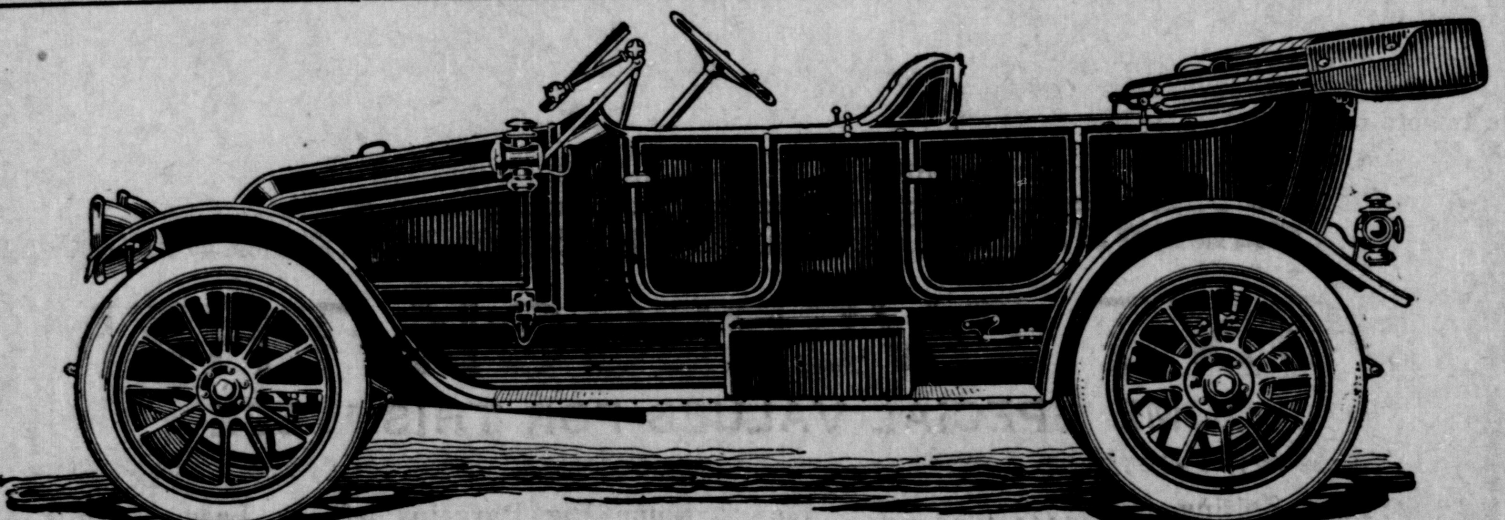

New Zealand, a country very advanced in social legislation, exempts incomes up to $1,500. Incomes over $6,500 pay 5 per cent, and so do corporations.

In thirty-seven countries of the world the income tax is estimated to yield one-half of all the returns from direct taxation. In Great Britain it yields more than half.

Wisconsin has a state income tax. The exemption is $800 for a single person, $1,200 for husband a wife and $200 for each minor or other dependent. The rate varies from 1 to 6 per cent.

A Wisconsin millionaire, under the combination of state and federal taxation, may presently be called upon to pay 10 per cent upon the greater part of his income.

Of course the average rent payer in any American city pays much more than 10 per cent of his income in indirect taxation, federal, state and local.

Looting Nature.

Spring is hailed with more than the usual gladness. The grass is green and the trees and shrubs are giving the first delightful promise of their leafy, summer luxuriance. In the fields and woods the wild flowers are making the awakening earth, where nature still holds sway, fragrant and beautiful.

But soon can be seen men and women and children riding into the city from the country in the street cars and automobiles, not only laden with these blossoms, but carrying as trophies branches of flowering trees and many vines and plants torn up by the roots. For the brief space of a day this looted beauty will show forth on parlor mantel and drawing room table and then will disappear and its wreckage be cast to the ash heap. And the places from which it was taken will be bare.

Why is it that the average human being, upon seeing a wild flower, is possessed by the desire to tear it up? He does not feel the same regard as for the cultivated flowers on his lawn and in the public park. He realizes that they are for the continued enjoyment of himself and others. A nest of violets under a budding tree, in the fresh greensward, is a beautiful thing to see. Why destroy it and rob others of the pleasure of beholding it?

There are lovers of nature in this city who take delight, every spring, in seeking out the places where the wild flowers and ferns most abound, but who dare not reveal them to any but those they can trust, for fear the wanton destruction will follow. Why is it that so few people have any compunction about taking the life of that brightest and most beautiful thing in the world, a flower? Why are wild flowers so often taken in the way which kills the plants and leaves nothing for the years to come?

The effort to stop excessive speed by automobile drivers on the public streets is commendable. Most automobile owners are inclined to obey the law in the matter of speed but occasionally one breaks over the limit. When the improved streets appear free from obstruction the temptation is to "open up" and see how fast the machine can go. There is an exhilaration about rapid motion, especially to the man at the wheel who controls the machinery, which captures almost every driver sooner or later. But the danger on the public streets is too great. One can never tell what moment someone may drive in from a cross street, or what moment a pedestrian may start to cross, or a child in play may run to the middle of the street. There is always danger of serious results from excessive speed. The few drivers who are given to running faster than the prescribed limit, should heed the warning given by the police department and help to keep our streets safe at all times for all persons and all classes of vehicles who have occasion to use them.

The bankers object to paying two per cent interest on government deposits. Probably they think Uncle Sam ought to pay them for putting his money where he can't spend it.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About
INFANT ARGUMENT.
(Muncie Press.)

Chairman Underwood solemnly tells the house of representatives that if any American manufacturer undertakes to reduce wages to meet the cheap labor competition introduced by the pending tariff bill, or if he closes his factory "in order to affect the result of next year's congressional elections," the bureau of labor will send out a corps of detectives to overhaul his business and the department of justice will prosecute him for the offense.

The suggestion that any manufacturer will unnecessarily disturb his business by wage reductions not made imperative by new conditions of competition, or that any manufacturer will close a profitable plant in order to influence election results, is buncombe that could only come from a politician without knowledge of business.

The men who run industries are in business for business and not political ends. What might seem to a professional politician as a natural thing for a manufacturer to do would never occur to the manufacturer as a remote possibility. A reduction of wages not justified by competitive conditions would deprive a factory of its labor because every factory must compete against the existing demand for labor as created by the whole number of industrial establishments. The theory that any well established, prosperous manufacturing establishment operated for profit would be closed by its owners for political effect is puerile. Such an act would scatter the organization and disperse the employees of the establishment. It would destroy the market for the plant's products. And business men understand the imbecility of such a suggestion. It could come only from a politician utterly ignorant of business and of business methods.

Tariff legislation by men ignorant of business and of business methods means the unbusinesslike solution of a business problem. This exhibition at Washington is therefore not encouraging to those who hope for the best results from the new tariff law.

Amusements

The Palace will show an American drama "The Daughter of Senor Lopas" for the first picture tonight. The other is a Thanouser comedy, "The Militant Suffragette."

The Princess offers an Edison drama, "The Lost Deed" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a feature drama and shows Mabel Trunell in the leading part. The other is a Vitagraph comedy, "He Waited." Lillian Walker is featured in this production. Tomorrow night a special two-reel Lubin picture entitled "Until We Three Meet Again" will be shown.

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth is attracting unusual interest this season with its wonderful program of European novelties, its rebuilt parade, its complete menagerie, and its recently added $500,000 wordless spectacle of "Cleopatra," all of which will be seen in Indianapolis on May 21.

The parade, which takes place at 10 o'clock in the morning, is three miles in length. In the menagerie will be found the only baby giraffe on exhibition anywhere on earth. The inaugural spectacle of "Cleopatra" is produced on the biggest stage ever devoted to an open air amusement. It is erected in the main tent of the show. There is a cast of 1,250 characters, a grand opera chorus of 400 voices, an orchestra of 100 musicians, a ballet of 350 dancing girls, 650 horses, five herd of elephants, caravans of camels and an entire trainload of special scenery costumes and stage effects.

Among the many European novelties on the regular program which follows the spectacle, are Miss Bird Millman, the wonderful high wire artist, and novelty feats by a company of Japanese warriors and jiu jitsu experts, Winston's riding and juggling seals, the Herr Koenig's troupe of statue-building, dancing and jumping horses, a brass band of stallions, Berzac's mule and monkey circus, the Siegrist-Silbon family of air vaulters and somersaulters, Mae Wirth, the greatest bareback and somersault rider in the world; The Five Baltons, world's greatest strong men and women; the Vittoria and Georgetti strong arm dancers; Les Jardy and Les Deko families of acrobats; five herds of trained elephants, and the fifty funniest clowns in the world.

The two performances that will be given in Indianapolis will be exactly the same as those presented at Madison Square Garden, New York, where the season was opened in March. Not one detail has been changed. The great spectacle was said to be the most notable dramatic event in the history of amusements in that city, while the circus proper was credited with being the best ever given there.

A Thousand Farmers are Expected to Attend the Meeting—Governor Ralston to Speak.

Governor Ralston will be one of the most prominent of the "farmers" who will address the state conference on agriculture and country life in Indiana to be held in Indianapolis June 3 and 4.

Because of a press of state business the Governor has been declining practically all of the many invitations to speak which come to him, but because of a desire to do whatever he can to make vocational education a success he consented to address the conference. "The Relation of the State to Agricultural Development" will be his subject.

Plans for the conference were discussed last night at a meeting of the executive committee in the Board of Trade Building, says the Indianapolis Star. It was announced that acceptance of invitations to speak had been received from C. L. Goodbar, Crawfordsville banker, who will preside; Governor Ralston, T. A. Coleman of Rushville, secretary of the Federation of Agricultural Associations; A. B. Graham, president of the Ohio State Agricultural University; George Woodruff, Joliet, (Ill.) banker; Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith of Cambridge City, Ind., president of the Indiana Home Economic Association; President W. E. Stone of Purdue University, the Rev. A. B. Storms, pastor of the Central Avenue M. E. church, Indianapolis; H. J. Waters, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College; W. E. Edens, president of the Central Trust company, Chicago, and D. F. Maish of Frankfort, president of the Federation of Agricultural Associations.

It is expected that the conference will attract more than 1,000 Indiana farmers. While the meeting place has not been definitely settled, the registration of visitors will be at the Claypool Hotel, which is headquarters.

PRAISE FOR MISSIONARIES

C. M. Yocum Speaks at C. W. B. M. Banquet at Church Meet.

The Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, was one of the speakers at the banquet yesterday afternoon at the College of Missions in Irvington, given by the C. W. B. M. for delegates attending the annual convention of Indiana Christian churches in Indianapolis. He paid tribute to the teacher, who, he asserted, touches life more powerfully and closely than any other outside influence. He declared the success of a missionary depended on his ability to teach. Above all, he said, Christ was a teacher. Several from here are attending the convention.

VETERANS TO BE GIVEN WELCOME

Warm Reception Awaits Them at Indianapolis.

ENCAMPMENT OF THE G. A. R.

Special Preparations Are Being Made For the Pleasure and Comfort of the Old Soldiers Who Next Week Will Attend What Will Probably Be Their Last Annual Encampment to Be Held in the Capital City.

Indianapolis, May 14.—C. D. Boyd of the executive committee, having charge of preparations for the annual G. A. R. encampment, which is to be held in Indianapolis next week, is urging all business men of the city and all property owners and tenants to decorate their property during the encampment.

"This will be, in all probability, the last encampment that the G. A. R. ever will hold in this city," said Mr. Boyd. "The ranks of the veterans are thinning and it appears now that there will be small chance of another encampment ever being held here. It is important that the people of Indianapolis pay their deepest respect to the gathering of veterans. This cannot be done more sincerely than by appropriate decorations during the week of the encampment."

Pastors of Indianapolis churches, with few exceptions, will preach sermons next Sunday of a patriotic nature, according to advices being received by the executive committee. Two weeks ago Mr. Boyd and other members of the committee started on a campaign to have the churches recognize the encampment.

The parade, a week from tomorrow, will be greatly augmented, according to Mr. Boyd, by a number of uniform ranks from various lodges of the city. Thirteen divisions of veterans and allied organizations, containing approximately 700 to 1,000 men each, will march, he said. The local camp of the Sons of Veterans is making extensive preparations for its part in the parade.

WANTED TO KILL THE CHIEF

Princeton Murderer Admits He Cherished Further Bloody Designs.

Vincennes, Ind., May 14.—Walter Brocalt, murderer of Patrolman Hitch of Princeton, now in the Knox county jail in Vincennes, boasts of his deed and says he is satisfied.

"They treated me dirty at Princeton, and I went there to clean up the bunch," he said. "It was Hitch's own fault that I had to kill him, but I'm satisfied. It was not Hitch that I wanted to get. I wanted to kill Chief of Police Haley, and after shooting Hitch waited around awhile, hoping to get him before leaving Princeton."

Brocalt admitted that he had intended to kill "four or five," but denied that he intended molesting his former wife or his children.

He is the coolest headed murderer ever in jail here and feels that he had a perfect right to kill the policeman when the latter refused to heed his command to keep away.

But one man was hurt and he was only slightly injured. The wreckage burned furiously for eight hours.

Governor Hunt Expects to Sign Anti-Alien Land Bill.

Phoenix, Ariz., May 14.—The anti-alien land bill passed by the house has been approved by the senate and now goes to Governor Hunt. The proposed law prevents an alien who has not declared citizenship intentions from owning real estate or leasing it for more than five years. Four hundred Japanese residents have petitioned the governor to veto the measure, but it is expected the bill will be signed.

A memorial to congress was introduced in the senate asking that steps be taken to abrogate the present treaty between the United States and Japan and a new treaty made which will permit states to enact their own alien land laws.

AFRAID TO RISK A VOTE ON IT

Senate Democrats Realize Their Tight Place.

TARIFF PROGRAM IS DELAYED

Motion to Disperse, With Public Hearings on the Tariff Bill in Committee of Upper House Met With Such Stout Resistance That Leader Kern, Rather Than See Proposition Come to a Vote, Took the One Way Out.

Washington, May 14.—It is becoming more apparent daily that the Democrats are going to have a tight squeeze in carrying the present tariff program through the senate. Again yesterday they were afraid to risk a vote on the proposition to disperse with hearings on the bill and were obliged to adjourn without any progress having been made. For two hours there was a debate in which party lines were sharply drawn. Finally the Democrats put an end to the colloquy by moving for an executive session.

Evidently the claims which the Democratic leaders had been making of Republican support in opposition to public hearings was not in evidence, for the Democratic opposition to Chairman Simmons's plan for referring the bill without instructions for public hearings was so great that the Democrats feared a test of strength.

Chairman Simmons renewed his motion for a reference to the finance committee, and immediately Senator Penrose offered an amendment instructing the committee to grant hearings. Before the debate ended Senator La Follette came forward with a modification of Senator Penrose's amendment which directed the finance committee to propound to all persons who sought hearings sixteen questions to be answered under oath. Intended to elicit information as to the particular industry involved, the cost of production at home and abroad, the amount of importations, market prices, competition and transportation. Senator Penrose accepted Mr. La Follette's amendment.

When the Democrats, through Senator Kern, their leader, asked for an executive session the Republicans resisted and demanded a roll call, but the executive session was ordered by a vote of 48 to 34, three Progressive Republicans—La Follette, Works and Poindexter—voting with the Democrats. The eagerness of the Republicans to get a vote on the question of public hearings and the unwillingness of the Democrats apparently to make a test of strength occasioned much surprise. Before the senate met it was freely predicted, even by the Republican leaders, that the Democrats probably would be able to defeat the demand for public hearings. It was certain that they had a few Republican votes at their command, but there was an uncertain element among the Democrats who had been demanding public hearings and it became apparent that the Democrats were unable to see enough votes in sight to make their point.

The struggle will probably be renewed this afternoon, and there is some talk of according public hearings and limiting the time to ten days or two weeks. Chairman Simmons warned senators that if public hearings were held it would prolong the tariff legislation for six weeks at least.

THE BOLD THEFT OF NAVAL PLANS

Gives Department Officers a Genuine Scare.

SKILLFULLY CONCEALED LEAK

On the Night of March 4 These Thefts of Dreadnought Plans Began and Since Then There Have Been Several Other Instances of the Disappearance of Secret Papers From the Navy Building.

Washington, May 14.—Repeated thefts of plans of United States battleships from the navy department offices have occurred. This disclosure has caused a sensation in official circles. The thefts have been going on since the night of March 4, when certain plans of the newest dreadnought, the Pennsylvania, were stolen from the bureau of steam engineering. Since that date similar plans of other ships have been missed from the same drafting rooms.

Agents of the department of justice have been put on the case, but their investigations have brought no results. Though it is the opinion at the navy department that the plans were taken by someone employed in the building, suspicion has not yet rested on any individual, and neither has any of the responsible officers of the department been censured for the loss of the plans.

The plans of the Pennsylvania which were taken are described as of little value in themselves, and it is not their loss which is causing such particular concern there. What alarms Secretary Daniels and his associates in the department is the fact that apparently someone is able to steal highly confidential papers from the department and get away with them undetected. The thought of what the thief might have stolen has caused much more alarm than the knowledge of what he succeeded in taking.

Te first plans stolen were some pertaining to the battleship Pennsylvania, the monster dreadnought the contract for the construction of which was signed just two weeks before the end of the Taft administration. These plans were not complete and had to do with the deck details of the vessel. The plans were especially for the purpose of showing the arrangement of the vast amount of electrical wiring which is on every modern warship. It is denied at the navy department that these plans would be worth very much to anyone. It is reported, however, in the face of this denial, that the plans showed the wiring for the fire control apparatus, including the wiring of the turrets.

About the only real secret connected with battleship construction nowadays is the fire control apparatus, that is, the electrical devices and arrangements by which the firing of the big guns is controlled from a central station. Every nation endeavors to guard its fire control devices from every other. On the other hand, it is information about fire control which governments maintaining navies are most anxious to obtain in regard to their rivals.

After March 4 other thefts occurred, among them being the stealing of duplicates of the Pennsylvania plans that already had been taken. Plans pertaining to other ships also have been taken from the same room in the bureau of steam engineering. These plans all had to do with details of deck arms and did not pertain to the guns or hull construction. As the stolen plans have absolutely no value commercially, department officials have no conclusion left but that someone either took them in the hope of disposing of them to representatives of a foreign government or that someone deliberately carried out the theft at the instance of some similar agency.

Officers of long experience at the navy department said that this was the first occurrence of the kind at the department in their knowledge. Once some plans of a submarine were stolen, but this theft was supposed to have been committed on behalf of a rival of the company which was building the submarines.

A PLEA OF MANSLAUGHTER

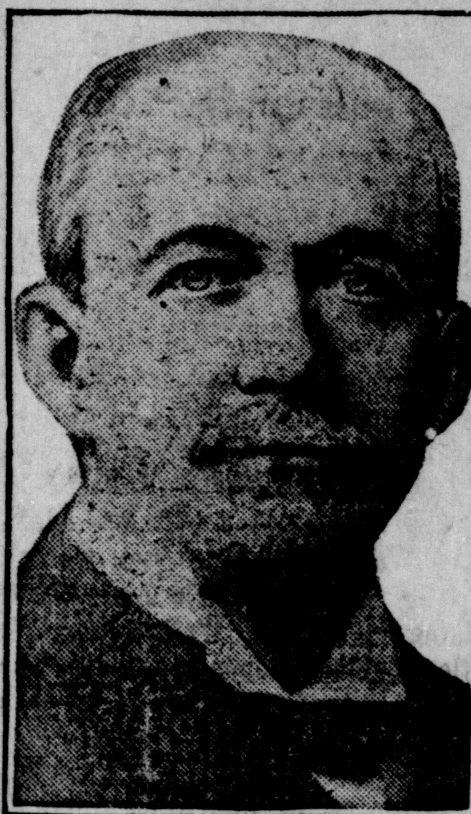

Accepted by Court in Case of Young Man Who Killed Three Negroes.

Evansville, Ind., May 14.—Allen VonBehren, who shot and killed three negro workmen in his factory Feb. 8 last, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in one case and was sentenced to two to twenty-one years in the reformatory at Jeffersonville. His attorneys withdrew their special pleas of insanity and self-defense. Prosecuting Attorney Sappenfield dismissed the indictments of first and second degree murder and the plea of guilty to manslaughter was entered and accepted. Young VonBehren is the son of a wealthy manufacturer of carriage wood stock.

Amended the President's Bill. Trenton, N. J., May 14.—President Wilson's compromise jury reform bill passed the house after it had been amended by tacking on a state-wide referendum. This will necessitate acceptance of the measure by popular vote before it becomes operative. This referendum clause is regarded as more of a defeat than a victory for the president.

H. E. HUNTINGTON

Chief Defendant in a Suit That Recalls Big Deal Back in 1904.

BRITISH INVESTORS WANT MONEY BACK

National Steel and Wire Company Deal Recalled.

New York, May 14.—Aggregating $2,500,000, losses by British investors in the formation of the National Steel and Wire company in 1904, and the reorganization of the concern as the National Consolidated Wire and Cable company, are the basis of a suit just filed in the supreme court by sixty-two investors, who have claims of from $1,000 to $100,000 for stock purchased under alleged false representations of Henry E. Huntington and the late Everett B. Webster, one time president of the National Steel and Wire company, who died in 1907.

Mr. Huntington, who is the chief defendant, and will be called on to reimburse the plaintiffs if they win the suit, is the nephew of the late Collis P. Huntington and the chief beneficiary under his will. The suit also contains a charge that the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. was used by the promoters to aid them in perpetrating a fraud on the plaintiffs, because the Morgan firm was itself deceived by the alleged false representations of Huntington.

Committee May Blame Congress. Washington, May 14.—The senate committee which investigated the Washington police department for failure to furnish protection to women paraders in the suffragist parade on March 3, is trying to reach an agreement on a form of report. Apparently there is a disposition to blame congress for not making provision to authorize the police to clear the avenue earlier in the day.

Preparing for an Outbreak. Salonica, May 14.—The British cruiser Gloucester has been dispatched at full speed for Smyrna. Disturbances are feared at that place, and it is thought that British lives and property should be protected. An outbreak is threatened.

Wealthy Farmer Hangs Himself. Nashville, Ind., May 14.—Despondent because of ill health, John Sanders, fifty-five years old, a wealthy farmer, committed suicide. Alarmed at his delay in coming to breakfast his wife went to the barn and found his body hanging from a rafter.

No Americans were killed or injured by the recent typhoon in the Philippines.

Finger prints indicate that a woman was accessory to the crime.

To learn her identity read "The Argyle Case," our new serial.

Pity the Unpainted House!

Would you go out in the pouring rain wearing your best clothes if you had no protection such as an umbrella or raincoat? Not if you could help it, you say.

Yet some people expose expensive material to the elements without adequate protection. The building material in your house is expensive and should be protected. Otherwise it will be ruined as surely as the fine clothes you wouldn't wish to wear out in the rain.

HALTERMAN TO BE IN SUNDAY'S GAME

"St. Paul Wonder" Will be Seen in His Old Position in Left Field.

FANS ARE GREATLY PLEASED

John Walker, manager of the Rushville team, succeeded in signing Earl Halterman yesterday and he will be seen in his old position in left field Sunday in the game with the Richmond Waldorfs. Halterman wanted to play with the locals and after talking it over with Walker they had little trouble in coming to terms. The team has needed Halterman and in securing him the management has gone a long ways towards strengthening the team. The fans will welcome Halterman as he is a favorite here. "Halty" will alternate in left field and in the box.

The management has strings out for a third baseman and a short stop, the other weak places on the team. With these places filled with real ball players the team will look like a winner.

sensation in our national conventions. On what vote would the representation be based? On that for Taft in 1912, for Taft in 1908, or for Roosevelt in 1904? What do they mean when they say they favor a change? Does it mean Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee or North Carolina?

"I do not in my own mind treat seriously the proposition to hold a national convention until one is held under the usages of the Republican party. They seem to want direct primaries to nominate candidates and have each state provide by law for the election of delegates. That would destroy the unit rule, which was adopted in 1880, with the congressional district as a unit.

"If it is desired to get the real sentiment of the people we will get it from the congressional districts. If it is to be a state law is it to be confined to the Republican party? Political parties are voluntary organizations. These gentlemen have been meeting in Chicago voluntarily. Do they want a law passed for other people, or to read people out of a party? It is not in the power of these gentlemen to reorganize the Republican party. I am out of public life. I am a co-sovereign. I am entirely satisfied with the Republican party without an adjective. In my judgment the great majority of the people who voted for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 were and are in principle good Republicans. If our Democratic friends do not succeed in retaining the present material prosperity the Republican party will progress far enough to turn them out of power."

James E. Watson spoke on the fundamental principles of the party.

FINED ONLY ON ONE CHARGE

Pleaded Guilty to Provoke and Other Will Rest.

Howard Williams pleaded guilty to the charge of provoke, preferred by Mrs. Gertrude Kanell, in Squire Kratzer's court last night and was fined one dollar and costs, amounting in all to $9.75. Williams was arrested on two charges but the other, which is for carrying concealed weapons, will not be pushed pending his good behavior. Mrs. Kanell alleged that Williams came to her home Sunday morning while under the influence of liquor and abused her for the part she played in helping Mrs. Williams obtain her children from his possession. Mr. Williams recently filed divorce proceedings and the case is now pending in court. The entire trouble is the outgrowth of their domestic relations.

DATE FOR ANNUAL "SINGING" IS SET

Descendants of "Old Missouri Harmony Singers" Will Meet at Morristown Sunday, May 25.

SONG SERVICE AT M. E. CHURCH

Intention of Local Singers to Unite With Morristown Body Next Year in Meeting.

Preparations for the annual "Old Folks' Singing" at Morristown, Sunday, May 25, are rapidly being made and those in charge have the greatest hopes of making the event one of the most successful ever held at the metropolis of Hanover township.

In the early forties a young physician from the east settled near Morristown and being possessed with an exceptionally good talent for music started a singing class, which was known far and wide over many states as the "Old Missouri Harmony Singers." The first lessons were given in an old school house near Morristown. The class had a membership of about seventy-five. Since the formation of the class, each year it has been a custom to hold what is termed an "Old Folks' Singing."

However, a few years ago the name was changed from the "Old Missouri Harmony Singers" to the Diapason singers, the members of the old class all having died with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Hackleman of Morristown. The new style of singing has taken the place of the "Old Missouri Harmony Singers."

The leaders this year are Theopolis Hargrove and William Handy of Morristown, and C. C. Chester of Des Moines, Iowa. The officers are as follows: President, Alonzo Myers; vice-president, Theopolis Hargrove, and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Florence Rock.

It is the intention of the officers of the Rushville and Morristown singers to unite the two classes and hold their annual meeting together next year at Morristown. The plan was adopted at the meeting here last Sunday when the following officers were elected: W. O. Frazee, president; Will King, secretary and treasurer; John A. Spurrier, chorister; the Rev. J. B. Meacham, chaplain.

The officers this year expect one of the largest crowds at the singing that ever gathered in Morristown. Word from people in Illinois, Ohio, Missouri and Kentucky, who have attended the annual event, is to the effect that they will be present this year. The song service will be held at the M. E. church in Morristown. The singers who will take part have already begun to practice for the event.

MEETINGS ATTRACT CROWD

Interest in Revival Services at Baptist Church Increases.

The Rev. Luke P. V. Williams, state evangelist of the Baptist church, who is conducting revival services at the First Baptist church, continues to draw large crowds. Last night the Rev. Mr. Williams spoke from the text "They all with one accord began to make excuses." He is a forceful and earnest speaker and the interest increases each evening. Tonight the subject of the sermon is "The Second Coming of Christ."

JIM TO OPEN CAMP.

James Adams, the only original camp cook, will open up the Henley camp on the banks of Flatrock near Moscow the first of June and will operate it until November 1. He is advertising in metropolitan newspapers soliciting camping parties. The camp is well equipped, the natural scenery is beautiful.

Mrs. Sarah Innis, age eighty-four years, fell in the backyard at her home in Milroy yesterday and suffered a broken right arm and hip. Because of her extreme age and her feeble condition, the injury is causing her relatives serious concern.
